Johnson Accepts New Brazil Rule; Sends Message

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has sent his "warmest good wishes" to the new president of Brazil and described as constitutional his ascent to power.

Johnson accepted without question the legitimacy of Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli's installation as head of the Brazilian government although a military coup ousted his predecessor, Joao Goulart.

The Johnson message had the effect of clearly establishing U.S. recognition of the new regime less than 24 hours after Mazzilli took office.

With the ouster of the Goulart government, U.S. officials see an opportunity for improved relations with the South American country. There was no mention in the brief presidential message of Goulart, who was deposed by the military because of his leftist leanings.

"The American people have watched with anxiety the political and economic difficulties through which your great nation has been passing and have admired the resolute will of the Brazilian community to resolve these difficulties within the framework of constitutional democracy and without civil strife," Johnson told Mazzilli, who moved up from the presidency of the Brazilian Chamber of Deputies.

The congratulatory tone of the message was in line with earlier unofficial word that Wash-

Goulart In Argentina, Army Leaders Report

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Victorious army leaders of Brazil's anti-Communist revolution said deposed President Joao Goulart fled into Argentina today, but Argentine border officials said they had not seen the ousted leftist.

An army spokesman said early today Goulart had left his ranch at Sao Borja, on the Argentine border, bound by car for Buenos Aires and "already in Argentine territory." Goulart was reported accompanied by his family and Gen. Assis Brasil, chief of his personal military staff.

Authorities in Argentine border provinces said, however, Goulart had not entered the country and that border patrols were alerted for any clandestine crossing. Airport control towers in Paraguay and Uruguay also were watching for him.

Talks Slated To Resume In Dredge Strike

50 Of Dravo's Fleet Idle With Picketing Along River Shore

Negotiations were slated to resume this afternoon at 1:30 in Pittsburgh between the National Maritime Union and representatives of the Dravo Corp.'s Keystone Division in a strike of sand dredge workers in the Pittsburgh area.

Authorized by the NMU, the strike began Wednesday noon by an estimated 50 dredge employees in the Keystone Division, which takes in Dravo's Ohio River operations in the East Liverpool - Wellsville vicinity.

Pickets were on duty today along both shores of the river south of Newell and near the Stratton super-dam.

Joe Reddy, NMU officer, said at Pittsburgh negotiations for a new contract were slated this afternoon between the union and Dravo.

The dredge employees are seeking a wage increase, Reddy said, terming the stoppage an "economic strike."

Aide Of Hoffa Indicted For Bribe Attempt

Charged With Offer To Jury Member In Union Boss' Case

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A young man raised by James R. Hoffa has been indicted on charges of offering a $25,000 bribe to a member of the jury which convicted the Teamsters Union president of jury tampering.

Charles L. O'Brien, 29, business agent for a Detroit Teamster local, is accused of offering the money March 9 to Callie Key, a Negro widow, if she would swear Hoffa did not receive a fair trial.

O'Brien posted $15,000 bond and was released pending arraignment.

As a child, O'Brien was taken into Hoffa's home after his father, a Kansas City truck driver, was killed. Hoffa recently said O'Brien is "a boy who I have raised since he was a baby." O'Brien, his wife and their two children live in Hoffa's Detroit home.

The alleged bribe offer took place five days after Hoffa was convicted here and three days

'Passes Fair Night'

MacArthur's Condition Reported Still Critical

WASHINGTON (AP) — General of the Army Douglas MacArthur's condition remains critical, but the emergency treatment started Thursday to try to meet the problem of diminished kidney action is "functioning quite satisfactorily," his doctors reported today.

A medical bulletin from Walter Reed Army Hospital at 9:30 a.m. also said there has been no bleeding from the general's esophagus for the past 20 hours. Therefore a tube that has been inserted through his throat and esophagus, into his stomach is being removed this morning.

"However," the bulletin added, "his condition remains critical."

The bulletin reported that the five-star general "passed a fair night," and that his blood pressure remained at 110-60—presumably at about the same point as late Thursday afternoon—and that his pulse was at 96, still somewhat elevated, and his temperature at 99.2, just slightly above normal.

The doctors were fighting to give their patient sorely needed time to recover vital processes.

In admiration, they credited his stamina through 11 days of critical condition to "his heart, his constitution and his will to live."

His chances are not considered good, but the decline in kidney and heart function reported Thursday morning stabilized by afternoon.

The 84-year-old general has survived three major operations two of them emergencies, in 32 days at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

His blood pressure and pulse, previously reported as indicating a loss of heart efficiency, were last reported within normal

Coal Mines Now Idled In 6 States

Little Hope Seen For Ending Strike Prior To Saturday

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An intra-union dispute kept soft coal mines in six states idle today. There was little hope of a solution before Saturday at the earliest.

The dispute, which early this week affected Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, spread Thursday to Kentucky, Illinois and Indiana.

Thousands of miners stayed away from their jobs, but officials of the United Mine Workers Union said the confused pattern of the strikes made it difficult to estimate the exact number.

It appeared, however, that at least 10,000 were out in the six states.

Workers at at least seven mines in Belmont and Harrison counties, Ohio, are involved.

An estimated 2,000 miners are said to be staying off the job in the Hanna Coal Co. deep mines at New Athens, Bradford No. 1 and 2 and Y & O Coal Co. at Cadiz, and Jessie Mine of the North American Coal Co., all in Harrison County, and North American's Powhattan Mines No. 1 and 3 in Belmont County.

At issue is discontent over a contract signed last week between the UMW and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association. It was the first contract negotiated by W.A. Boyle, president of the UMW for less than two years, and provided a $2-wage increase that raises the daily base rate to $26.25.

Miners, however, say they don't want a wage increase, only better fringe benefits and seniority protection.

The new contract provides a $25 increase in the $200 vacation allowance. But miners say a man can make $280 at his regular rate and would lose money on vacation.

Another complaint involves

U.S. Chooses Lisbon Home As Postal Site

LISBON — A 152-year-old home at 218-220 W. Lincoln Way owned by Mrs. Viola B. Gintz has been selected as the site of a new Lisbon Post Office, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th Ohio District congressman, announced today.

One of the oldest homes in Lisbon, it dates back to 1811. Famous for its "Blockson Doorway," it was built by Atty. Fisher A. Blockson, who practiced law in Lisbon from 1805 to 1852.

The two lots have 85 feet frontage on W. Lincoln Way. The tract totals 142,250 square feet. The property is bordered on the east by the Pennzoil Service Station and on the west by the Urban Engle property.

The option price was not disclosed.

The new Post Office will be built by private capital and then rented to the Post Office Department on a lease basis.

Tentative plans call for a Colonial-design building. Any person wishing to bid on the building can obtain information from the Regional Office of the Post Office Department at Cincinnati.

Lisbon's first Post Office was in the Courthouse basement. It moved to its present location on the north side of the Square in 1910. It is in the McClintock Building, now owned by the Atty. Edgar Darcy Estate.

Gov. Egan In Plea

Bond Issue's Aim For Quake Relief

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Gov. William A. Egan flies to Juneau today to urge a joint session of the Legislature to approve a $50-million emergency bond issue to help earthquake-torn Alaskan cities.

The amount is only a tenth of the estimated loss but, says Egan, it will show Alaska is willing to do everything possible to pull itself up by its bootstraps.

President Johnson urged Congress to approve $50 million in emergency funds quickly and in Seattle, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., predicted eventual congressional approval of up to $200 million.

Jackson, attending a meeting of 500 state and federal officials and Seattle businessmen, proposed a government-sponsored retroactive disaster insurance plan. He said the precedent of retroactive insurance was established during World War II when the government offered war-risk insurance to persons suffering property losses.

Alaska Sen. E.L. Bartlett told the meeting his state has an assessed valuation of $815 million and damage, in terms of replacement costs, would amount to about $550 million.

While others talked of money for the vast rehabilitation tasks, Alaskans continued doing the little jobs that bring order out of chaos. Homes, shaken but liveable, were straightened and it was back to school for youngsters in many places.

The weather turned cold and snow began to fall. But it could not cover the ugly piles of rubble in the center of this beautiful city, Alaska's largest.

Heat and power have been restored to most of the city and telephone service is back to normal. It is being overtaken, however, by anxious relatives and friends.

Although a week has passed, the total number of casualties is not known, and may not be for some time yet. Civil Defense officials place the figure at 125 dead and missing.

There was no food shortage here, but 60,000 pounds was airlifted to Kenai, Soldotna and Homer in the hard-hit area on the peninsula south of here. Another 3,500 pounds was flown to Seward.

Military planes flew almost continuously between here and Seattle bringing in more supplies.

Approval From Rome Expected

Plans Drawn For English In Roman Catholic Mass

WASHINGTON (AP)—American prelates of the Roman Catholic Church have drawn up detailed recommendations for greater use of English in Masses. Prompt approval from Rome is expected.

About 200 archbishops and bishops and four of the five American cardinals met Thursday in a secret session at Catholic University to approve the texts and the extent of English in the Mass, sacraments and the breviary.

Final approval of the new translations was requested of the Ecumenical Council's commission for the liturgy. "When this is forthcoming," said the Most Rev. John F. Dearden, archbishop of Detroit, "they will be put into effect in the United States as soon as possible."

Archbishop Dearden is chairman of the U.S. Bishops' Commission on Liturgy which decided on the recommendations last Jan. 8 at a meeting in Philadelphia.

The impetus for greater use of the vernacular—and consequently less use of Latin—came last Dec. 4 from the liturgical reform constitution adopted by the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

Although the recommendations approved Thursday are a secret, authoritative sources report the vernacular will not apply to the "Canon," the most sacred portion of the Mass.

The speculation is that the most likely date for the revised texts to be inaugurated is the first Sunday in Advent, Nov. 29, which is the beginning of the liturgical year.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, James Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis, James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles and Albert Cardinal Meyer of Chicago attended the meeting.

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston was absent.

Loan Cleared On Calcutta's Sewer Plans

Sponsoring Agency Notified Of Federal Advance Of $8,710

The Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency at Washington has approved an $8,710 loan to finance preliminary planning of a Calcutta area sanitary sewer project.

Notice of the loan was received Thursday from Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th Ohio District congressman, by David (Pete) Beatty, president of the Board of Trustees of the South-eastern Water and Sewer District.

The newly-created agency proposes eventually to provide both sewer and water service for the Calcutta - Glenmoor area. The federal agency previously authorized a $4,780 loan for preliminary planning on the Glenmoor phase of the sewer project.

The water and sewer district has applications pending for $343,000 in construction funds for its water service program. The funds are sought under the federal Accelerated Public Works program.

The preliminary planning is expected to consist primarily of aerial photography to show the general lay of the terrain and test borings to indicate the type of sub-surface strata.

The federal loan clears the way for the water and sewer district to let contracts for the preliminary planning.

It proposes to include a separate disposal system as part of the sewage service. For water service, it expects to buy its supply from East Liverpool and pipe it to a standpipe from which it would be distributed.

Officials said Common Pleas Court hearing is expected to be

Spring Weather Brief With Freezing Tonight

April seems unable to make up its mind whether spring or winter should prevail, so the Ohio weatherman has stepped in.

In short, he called an end to mid-50 temperatures and predicted possible sub-freezing to night, promising snow flurries will be mixed with the showers. Saturday will continue the same dreary outlook of colder with a mixture of rain and flurries.

The downtown had 53 at 6 a.m. after a night of spring showers but the mercury may dip to a low range of 27 to 32 tonight. The weekend will remain cool with no warmth until early in the week.

World Communist Parties Would Bid To Settle Dispute

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union finally lashed back at Red China today, calling for a showdown meeting of the world's Communist parties to thrash out communism's big feud.

Breaking a six-month silence, the Kremlin accused the Chinese of trying to run the Red bloc, to stir political unrest in the Soviet Union, to sabotage Premier Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence and to obtain nuclear weapons at any cost.

The Soviet reply occupied nearly an entire edition of the Communist party newspaper Pravda. In a front-page editorial, Pravda called Mao Tse-tung's regime "the main danger" to the unity of the world Communist movement.

Pravda said the final straw was Tuesday when Peking called Khrushchev "the greatest capitulationist in history" and demanded that Communists in and out of the Soviet Union repudiate his policies.

The party organ called the attack a "terrible insult to our party and the entire Soviet people."

"It showed conclusively that the leaders of the Communist party of China have passed all limits in their political struggle against the world Communist movement," the editorial continued, "and have chosen the Communist party of the Soviet Union and the Soviet Union as the main target for their attacks."

The remainder of the paper contained an anti-Chinese speech by Mikhail A. Suslov, the Soviet party's chief theoretician. The speech had been kept secret since Suslov delivered it to a meeting of the Soviet Communist party's central committee Feb. 14.

Accusing Red China of "nationalist arrogance" and "great power, egotistical interests," Suslov said: "There is no longer any doubt that Peking is steering a course toward a split among the Communist parties, toward the setting up of factions and groups hostile to Marxism-Leninism."

Suslov accused the Chinese of seeking to usurp the Kremlin's leadership of the world Communist movement and to bring political chaos within the Soviet Union as well.

Although Suslov's speech was laced with harsh language, he did not propose reading Peking out of the Communist movement, as Stalin had tried to do to Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia. Instead, Suslov proposed a meeting of the world's Communist parties "to discuss the basic problems of our time and to hold the broadest possible exchange of opinions in the interest of surmounting the difficulties that have arisen in the Communist movement."

The blast came while Khrushchev was visiting Hungary. The Soviet premier indicated public annoyance with his Chinese critics on Wednesday by saying Peking wanted to spread world revolution on an empty stomach.

"Isn't it better to have good goulash?" Khrushchev asked applauding Budapest factory workers.

Hungary's Communist party came to his support today, accusing the Chinese of "weakening the unity of Communist countries and helping imperialism against the socialist world."

It's 'Perry Mason' Ending

Youth, 19, Defends Self; Traffic Charge Reduced

A 19-year-old motorist charged with reckless driving conducted his own defense successfully in Municipal Court today and wound up with a Perry Mason type ending in which he won a reduction of the charge and escaped with a $10 fine on a speeding count.

Samuel H. Estel Jr. of Rochester, N. Y., formerly of East Liverpool, convinced Judge Samuel M. Chertoff to reduce the charge to speeding—a violation he had admitted in his own testimony.

Estel was cited at 7:46 p.m. Thursday on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." by Patrolmen Paul Blevins and Karl Samples. The affidavit alleged that he "drove west on Pennsylvania Ave. at a speed of 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone, drove on the right berm and then crossed to the left berm."

Officer Blevins testified he and Officer Samples were proceeding west on the "Hill Rd." when they first observed Estel's car ahead. It was "rocking on the berm" as though the auto had gone out of control, he said. A short time later, the car went onto the left berm as Estel passed another car headed in the same direction, he said.

The officers speeded their cruiser to 65 and trailed Estel about a quarter of a mile before halting him, Blevins said. Estel said it all began when he started up the "Hill Rd." from Mulberry St. with another car "tail-gating" him — driving very close behind. He said the "tail-gating" continued, so he pulled onto the berm to allow the unidentified car to pass. His car rocked on the berm because of ruts and stones, he said.

Estel said he pulled onto the road again and this time the unidentified car slowed drastically. As he started to pass, the other car swung to the left, forcing him onto the opposite berm, he testified.

As part of his testimony, he said he exceeded the 50-mile limit, but did not know if he had been driving 65.

Recalled in rebuttal, the patrolman said he saw Estel's car and the other auto, but he did not see the unidentified auto crowd Estel. He said he thought Estel went onto the berm the second time before he was abreast of the auto he was attempting to pass.

Questioned by Estel, the officer said he did not see the unidentified auto "tail-gate" the New York youth on the grade west of Mulberry St.

When all the testimony was in, the judge amended the affidavit to a charge of speeding. He commented Estel was guilty of speeding by his own admission.

In another reckless driving case, Richard E. Sell, 20, of 708 Wood St., Wellsville, forfeited a $32.50 bond. He was cited at 10:55 p.m. Tuesday on E. 5th St. by Officer Blevins.

The affidavit said Sell drove away from the traffic light at

Thief Obtains Meter Maid's Gear, Tickets

A thief obtained all the gear needed to set up his own parking meter enforcement business—including a badge and blank tickets—when he broke into the parked auto of a "Meter Maid" and her husband Thursday night or early today.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy English, 1118 Perry Ave., told police the thief used a brick to smash a window in the passenger side of their 1957 model station wagon while it was parked on Minerva St. between 9 p. m. yesterday and 12:35 this morning. The wife, Mrs. Ruby English, is a city "Meter Maid."

The thief removed Mrs. English's purse, which contained blank parking tickets, her badge, tools used in meter maintenance, a billfold and change purse, officers said. The amount of money involved was not disclosed, police said.

But the theft of the tools will not lead to a wholesale rifling of meter coin boxes. "Meter Maids" have keys and tools that allow them to open the heads of the meters to make minor adjustments and relieve coin stoppages.

Separate keys are used on collection days to open the coin boxes, mounted in the base of the meter under the head.

Mr. and Mrs. English told police they parked their auto about 9 to go to an automatic laundry. When they returned, they found the car had been rifled, officers said.

O'Brien has been in Chattanooga since the trial's end seeking affidavits in an effort to win a new trial for Hoffa. The Teamsters leader and three others were convicted of trying to tamper with the jury which heard Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville. That case ended in a mistrial.

Special Prosecutor John J. Hooker of Nashville said earlier that Mrs. Key, 63, treasurer of the Tennessee Federation of Negro Women's Clubs, had been approached with a bribe offer, and turned it down. Mrs. Key was the only Negro on the jury.

mal limits "considering his age and sedation."

During his waking hours, the general retains consciousness although he is under sedation.

Doctors Thursday pressed into operation a technique which could temporarily take over part of the kidney functions.

The technique, called peritoneal dialysis, is aimed at drawing off the poisonous waste products building up in the general's blood that ordinarily would be filtered out by the kidneys.

The hope is that the kidneys will begin functioning again, for the flushing action of the artificial technique is efficient only as a temporary aid. There is always the danger after perhaps two days of use that infection might enter into the peritoneum. To help stem possible infection that could spread rapidly in the blood-rich abdominal area, doctors used antibiotics along with the fluid chemicals of the artificial kidney process.

In the Senate Thursday, Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., interrupted the civil rights debate with an appeal for consideration of a resolution by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., to confer six-star rank on the general.

Symington's resolution, introduced last December, has the support of 27 other senators.

If the court approves, the district then will exist as a separate entity, empowered to perform many of the contractual duties of any other political subdivision. At the first hearing, the court authorized the establishment of the water and sewer district and confirmed appointment of the trustees.

Once it's formally established, such a district has the power to borrow money on notes and bonds; award contracts; levy special assessments; employ personnel and assume many of the other prerogatives of a political subdivision.

The patrol alleged McGaffie attempted to pass another car going in the same direction, struck the medial strip, hit the other car, then straddled the medial strip for 195 feet before hopping over it onto the opposite lane.

Judge Chertoff told McGaffie his operator's permit will be suspended "the next time you get into an accident because of your driving habits."

WHY WASTE GASOLINE!

Sohio has found in test fleets that a dirty carburetor can waste as much as one gallon of gasoline in a tankful!

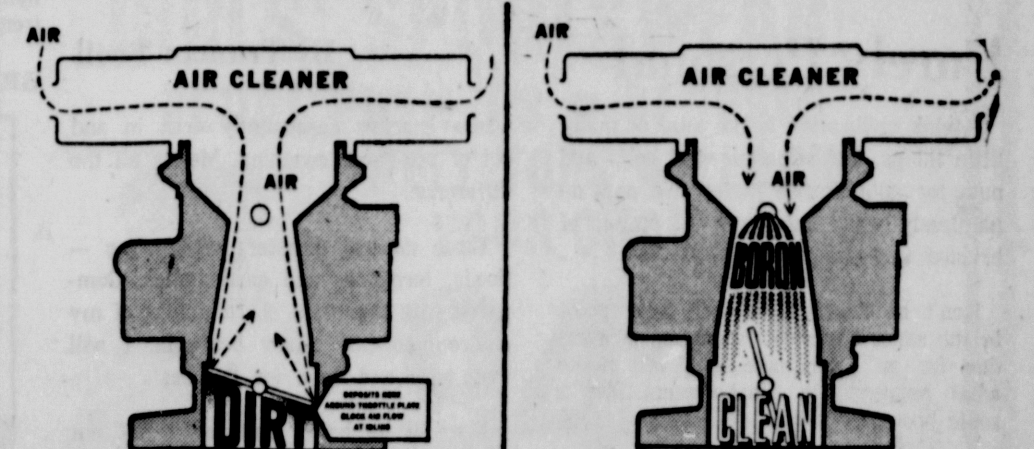

When dirt deposits like these form around your carburetor's throttle plate, they can interfere with the operation of your carburetor, causing gasoline waste!

To remove gasoline-wasting deposits from your carburetor, with its special Carburetor Cleaner!

USE BORON

HOW CARBURETORS CAN GET DIRTY AND WASTE GASOLINE

When air enters your carburetor, it contains dirt particles that are too tiny to be trapped by your air cleaner. These particles can stick to the carburetor walls around the throttle plate and build up hard deposits. These deposits can block the air flow to your engine at idling. Your gasoline-and-air mixture can get "too rich". Your engine gets too little air, uses too much gasoline. This is gasoline waste!

HOW BORON REMOVES GASOLINE-WASTING DEPOSITS

A special Carburetor Cleaner has been added to Boron Gasoline. This special Carburetor Cleaner dissolves the dirt deposits and washes them away. Because the deposits are hard, the cleaning process may take time. But the end result will be a clean carburetor—and no gasoline waste due to carburetor deposits! So don't let carburetor deposits cause your gasoline-and-air mixture to become "over-rich" and waste gasoline! Always use Boron with its special Carburetor Cleaner!

Perserverance In St. Clair

There's hope for new progress in providing sewage and water service to the 5,000 residents of the Glenmoor and Calcutta areas, now that a federal agency has granted an $8,710 for preliminary planning of the sewer lines in the Calcutta phase of the project.

Step by slow step the project has advanced to the point where the first very general plans can be put together for sewerage both the Calcutta and Glenmoor areas. A loan for planning the Glenmoor phase of the sewer system was approved late last fall.

Still in the works is an application for $343,000 under the federal Accelerated Public Works Program for construction of a water distribution system.

Both projects are being directed by the Southeastern Water and Sewer District, created by authority of the Common Pleas Court.

If a 130-year-old neighbor might give some advice to a bustling young "newcomer," East Liverpool could cite these points for the St. Clair Township residents:

THE ACTION reported today represents progress, but there's a very long road ahead.

Things accomplished almost overnight by private business take months when managed by governmental bodies. The difference lies mainly in the fact that private business can make decisions quickly and move swiftly, without being bound by legal constraints and the wishes of all the stockholders—or voters.

Pitfalls will turn up almost endlessly.

There will be delays, roadblocks and unexpected complications.

Costs probably will inch up from original estimates, as they have a way of doing.

Objections will be interposed by a vocal minority contending the projects are unnecessary in the first place, invented as a plot to extract money from the pockets of the people.

"After all, Grandpa got along for 50 years with a septic tank and a well!"

Others, more subtle, will raise objections based on high-sounding purposes, but with the same objective—to prevent or impede the work.

EAST LIVERPOOL has been through all those experiences, to name just a few—when it built a new water works plant before World War I; when it first negotiated to build the "super road" link with Wellsville; when it planned to build the first phase of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway and now as it moves forward with plans to rebuild outer St. Clair Ave.

As an example, that St. Clair Ave. project has been sought actively for more than four years. Earlier attempts to re-surface the street date back to 1952. Cost estimates on the current St. Clair project were quoted first around $400,000. They stand now at $846,000.

Glenmoor and Calcutta residents actively interested in linking their communities with modern sewage and water services will have to face many delays with patience, but not resignation.

They will have to answer obstructionist arguments with logic and tact.

The will of the majority will materialize in the end, if the majority plays its real role in the democratic process.

Freedom To Criticize

A report by Jack Bell of the Associated Press that a chill has descended on foreign policy communication between the White House and Republican leaders in Congress obviously must have been based on direct word from Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

It is authentic. Even if President Johnson pulled the rug from under the report by inviting the two Republican leaders to come for dinner and spend the night it would still be a fact they have been out of touch with the White House since the Panama crisis last January.

This is the way it should be. Under ordinary circumstances, spokesmen for the loyal opposition to the party in power always should be free to criticize at will.

Except in the most critical times, leaders of the party out of power never should be "sucked in" on foreign policy decisions they may want to criticize later.

This is equally true of both parties. Also equally true the fact both parties they will turn every adversity to campaign account if they get a chance. There was an example of this in the 1960 campaign.

The Eisenhower administration had had trouble enough in Cuba without John F. Kennedy's allegations that Richard M. Nixon as vice president had been soft on Cuban policy.

At the same time, Sen. Kennedy was thumping the Eisenhower administration for being too hard about Quemoy and Matsu. He scored heavily on these foreign policy issues, one of them frivolous and contrived and the other sure to haunt him if he won, as it did in the Bay of Pigs incident and the Cuban missile crisis.

In the 1964 campaign, President Johnson will be assailed on every point of dissatisfaction with foreign policy, from Cuba to South Viet Nam, from Berlin to dissatisfaction with conditions in Latin America. Sen. Dirksen, Rep. Halleck and their GOP associates should give White House parleys on foreign policy a wide berth from now on. They should keep their hands untied.

It looks as if they could count on President Johnson to help them.

Raise The Curtain!

Comes now the season of the high school thespian, the time for comedy and mystery and wild drama on stages throughout the Tri-State District.

The annual class play is a memorable event for students — who relieve the anxiety, excitement and joy for years afterward — and for the parents who are often more tense and "full of butterflies" than their offspring.

We doubt if any of the current crop of masquers end up on Broadway (New York) or on our television screens in the next decade. But regardless, they will all have had a brief touch of the madness of acting and a heck of a lot of fun.

Something Different In Coal

Remembering the bad old days when John L. Lewis kept one eye on the supply of coal above ground and the other on the calendar, everybody now approaching the golden years thought it an improvement when springtime strikes in the coal industry went out of fashion. Everybody seemed happy that a new contract had been negotiated in Washington this year without threat of a strike.

It made sense to keep working the surviving diggings, rather than close them down while miners helped their wives with spring housecleaning, painted their houses and went fishing until a shortage of coal developed. Shutting off the coal supply periodically was one reason soft-coal mining was in trouble. The industry as a whole had shortsightedly driven its customers into the market for gas and oil.

But something different now has cropped out in soft-coal mining — a post-contract strike against the union. The United Mine Workers contract with the mine operators is being attacked by dissatisfied members of locals in five UMW districts.

The discontented miners apparently are acting in good faith. That is, they have not been put up to some mischief as part of union strategy to get more out of management than their official negotiators were able to get. They are running a wildcat strike. If it spreads, the UMW's authority to negotiate in behalf of its members will be under a cloud.

U.S. Aids Poles Who Help Castro

By Victor Riesel

Our nation, in compassion, has poured $10 million into the building of a children's hospital in Cracow, Poland, while, in disdain of our charity, the Polish Communists have been pouring millions of dollars into the Cuban military, industrial and propaganda machine.

Victor Riesel

What follows here is not intended to visit the inequities of the fathers upon the children, but to tear the lid off the unreported story of Poland's trafficking with our enemy in the Caribbean while we officially befriend Warsaw behind the Iron Curtain.

It has not been reported in the U. S., but our intelligence people know that on Feb. 3 Poland and Cuba signed a trade pact calling on the Poles to provide the Castro regime with strategic, industrial material.

Under the trans-oceanic Communist agreement, Poland will send to Cuba electric motors and "equipment" of a similar nature — machine tools, hand tools, laboratory apparatus, activated carbon, rolled steel products, textiles and agricultural industrial factory machinery.

AN INTELLIGENCE report states that "machines and installations necessary for developing Cuban industry, as well as for the transportation and mechanization of agriculture constitute the basic Polish exports (to Cuba)."

This is only part of the deal. What is ironic is the little known fact that Poland buys such equipment in the United States. Thus, while one of our State Department officers tours Europe attempting to argue Western governments into cutting off sales to Cuba, we supply Poland which, in turn, sends similar supplies to Fidel Castro's regime. 'Tis a puzzlement to some of us here in the United States.

For example, few of our citizenry know that in the last year Poland's central purchasing trust has bought the following items from the U.S.:

"Electronic industrial process control instruments, telecommunications apparatus, electronic testing machines, gear cutting machines with accessories, information processing machines and parts, metal cutting machine tools and accessories, scientific measuring and controlling instruments, metal working equipment, audio transformers, synthetic rubber, copper alloy wire, electron tubes, electronic PH recorders and accessories, spectrum measuring instruments, chemicals, electrical steel sheets, electrical measuring and controlling instruments."

THIS SEEMS to grow more absurd the deeper I go into the report. The U. S. Department of Commerce has approved the sale of American textile machinery to Poland, and Poland, under the new pact, sends finished textiles to Cuba.

The U. S. issues export licenses for the sale of scientific, optical, medical measuring and controlling instruments and organic and inorganic chemicals to Poland. Then Warsaw sells laboratory apparatus to Cuba.

Our government spends millions trying to counteract Castro's propaganda inside Cuba and build a fifth column of anti-Communists on that island. But Cuba has become Poland's biggest customer in the "purchasing" of radios. More than 41,000 receivers were sent by Poland to Havana during 1963 — and certainly not because Castro wanted his people to tune in on the Beatles singing in Miami.

Our government, further, creates a blacklist of Cuba — bound ships which will not be permitted to enter U. S. ports, but we deal with Poland, though its merchant fleet sails regularly from Gdynia to Havana. I have a list of at least 12 of these Polish vessels which are exclusively on the Poland - Cuba run.

ates a blacklist of Cuba — bound ships which will not be permitted to enter U. S. ports, but we deal with Poland, though its merchant fleet sails regularly from Gdynia to Havana. I have a list of at least 12 of these Polish vessels which are exclusively on the Poland - Cuba run.

THE POLICY of our government is based on the effort to weaken Cuba's export of guns and terrorists by "starving" the island.

Our ally, Venezuela, cries out for a blockade of Cuba, whose agents are blasting its streets and much U. S. property there. Yet Poland has sent "technicians and professors" to Cuba to help build its shipyards for swift repair of Cuban craft.

In addition, Cuban youths go regularly to "polytechnical institutes" in Poland for training in such craftsmanship. "These Cuban youths," says an intelligence report, "on returning to their country will go to work in the new ship repair yards which have been built with Polish help."

For our compassion, for our money, for our vast quantities of surplus food which a score of other nations need as desperately, the Communist Polish government helps Castro build his island fortress.

If there is logic in this, perhaps someone here should take the trouble to explain to "we the people."

Scranton's Move

By David Lawrence

Pennsylvania Governor's Bid Expected

Throughout the country, in Republican political circles, there is a general expectation that Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania in the next few days will make an announcement which will be construed as encouraging his supporters to become active in obtaining for him David Lawrence the Republican presidential nomination at the convention in July.

The Pennsylvania governor has been under pressure from his friends to make an unequivocal statement — telling clearly his intentions. This is because of widespread comment among professional politicians that Gov. Scranton cannot afford to remain silent any longer if he really wants the nomination.

Naturally, the admirers of Gov. Scranton think he would make a good candidate, and the mention of the availability of Mr. Scranton has indeed evoked a good deal of comment in political circles and in the press but the fact remains that Mr. Scranton is relatively unknown. His views on public policies, especially current issues, have not been disclosed in any detail, nor is there any general familiarity with his qualifications to be president.

One professional politician on the Republican side sized up, for this correspondent, the situation as being largely related to seven big states — New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and California.

HE SAYS the Republicans must win in four of these and that the Republican candidate is most likely going to be the man who can carry at least four of the seven.

Ohio and Illinois are believed to be leaning strongly in the Republican direction. New York is a state considered by many Republicans to be in the doubtful class.

So the question finally resolves itself into who has the best chance to carry Pennsylvania, California, Michigan and New Jersey. This is where Gov. Scranton comes under consideration, because he is known in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

The California primaries on June 2 will, of course, have an important bearing on the whole Republican contest. If Sen. Goldwater of Arizona, for example, carries the California primaries, he will continue among the front runners.

Many politicians are saying privately, on the other hand, that even if Gov. Rockefeller were to win in California, he would not be able to get a majority in the convention.

THERE SEEMS to be a sentiment among some of the professionals who are not identified with any of the various candidates that the New York governor will not be able to win the nomination largely because of the feeling inside the party that the resentment among women voters over his divorce and remarriage would constitute too big an obstacle in the November election.

The two men who may eventually emerge as the candidates are former Vice President Nixon and Gov. Scranton. This is one reason why it is being openly stated by many politicians that, if Gov. Scranton doesn't do something soon, the big prize will fall into Mr. Nixon's lap without much effort.

One of the most interesting aspects of the Republican race is the talk that is going around about the impact of the Democratic vice-presidential nomination on the Republican chances of winning the election.

It's frequently stated, for instance, by some of the professional politicians that, if Attorney General Kennedy is nominated for the vice presidency on the Democratic ticket, President Johnson will not be able to carry the South, and he may lose strength in many of the Northern states. Although the civil rights bill has been widely advertised as popular in the North, there are signs that a good many of the voters there have been antagonized by it.

AS FAR as the South is concerned, the suggestion that the attorney general might be rewarded with the vice presidency for his recent efforts to enforce civil rights is one that gives many Southerners pause.

The practical politicians say that President Johnson is going to have to make the big decision, and, being a realist, he may conclude that, with the help of the Democratic senators and representatives and the state organizations, he can carry the South anyhow and will need Bobby Kennedy to help win some of the populous states of the North.

Republicans say, if this happens, the race will be closer than it might be if Sen. Humphrey, for example, were the Democratic nominee for vice president.

The supporters of Mr. Nixon are convinced that, in the final analysis, he will go to the convention with more strength than appears on the surface. The important argument on the Nixon side is that he was for eight years vice president of the United States and that he lost in 1960 by a narrow margin.

TO COUNTER this, proponents of other candidates declare that the country is not interested in the past, but in new faces. The big question is, however, how familiar will they be with the various candidates by convention time.

If Gov. Scranton announces his candidacy soon and makes a few speeches, the voters will at least have several weeks in which to become familiar with the Pennsylvania governor and decide whether the new face is satisfactory.

Indispensable Martin

By Joseph R. Slevin

One afternoon recently, President Johnson curved his long right arm around the shoulders of The Federal Reserve Board chairman, William McChesney Martin, Jr. It was a warm, friendly gesture and it carried an answer for those who have been asking when there will be a clash between the President and the head of the U.S. Central Bank.

Mr. Johnson has a Populist's easy money bias and an outspoken distaste for high interest rates. Mr. Martin is the jealous guardian of the dollar. He is determined to boost interest rates if he decides that is the price the country must pay to prevent inflation or to bolster the balance of payments.

THE ORACLES once were certain that the late President Kennedy and Mr. Martin would collide. But their relations became closer as time passed.

For one thing, Mr. Johnson needs Mr. Martin. The tough-minded Federal Reserve chief is a symbol of a sound dollar to nervous foreigners and to the wary American business and financial communities.

When Mr. Johnson put his arm around Mr. Martin, the two men were in the President's oval White House office. The occasion was a meeting of the President, Mr. Martin and five of the President's top advisers.

The group canvassed a broad range of problems. They talked frankly about the 1964 economic outlook, the balance of payments situation, the recent British bank rate increase and the touchy subject of interest rate trends here.

MR. HOLLER calls the group the Quadriad and it used to meet regularly with Mr. Kennedy. Last week's gathering was the second since Mr. Johnson became President, and more significantly, the second since the start of the year.

President Truman originally named Mr. Martin to the Federal Reserve chairmanship. President Eisenhower and President Kennedy both re-appointed him.

It is not generally known but all three invited Mr. Martin to attend Cabinet meetings when issues such as the balance of payments or monetary policy were to be discussed.

The soft-spoken Federal Reserve chairman has yet to attend his first Johnson Cabinet, but last week's shoulder hug suggests that the invitation will not be long in coming.

Shriners Air Plans On Trip

Plans for attending the national convention in New York City July 20-25 were reviewed by the Northern Panhandle Shrine Club at a meeting Thursday night in Weirton. Fifty-seven attended.

An estimated 500 Shriners from Osiris Temple of Wheeling, including 40 from the Northern Panhandle unit, are expected to attend. The trip will be made by bus, and by plane from Wheeling Airport.

A total of 200 rooms have been reserved at the Commodore Hotel for Osiris members. Roland Johnson, potentate, and several aides were present. The club also has completed plans for the Potentate's Ball slated April 25 at the Chester American Legion home.

Alonzo Brown Jr., president, presided. Next meeting will be May 7 at the Weirton Lions Club headquarters.

Palestine Fire Car Contract Let

EAST PALESTINE — The city Board of Control Thursday awarded a contract for an emergency car for the fire department to Mackall Motors of N. Market St. Ext. on a low bid of $3,069.

The contract includes a trade-in allowance of the 1947 vehicle.

Other bidders were Britain Motors, $3,197; Neil Motors, $3,290, and Beck Motors, $3,585. Council had appropriated $3,500 for the purchase.

The board agreed to seek bids for coal for the power plant and water department to be opened April 24 at noon. The contract will cover the period May 1 to April 30, 1965.

The daily requirement is 80 tons. The present contract is held by the Tony Ferris Coal Co.

The first federal labor relations law was enacted in 1888 and applied to railroads, providing for arbitration and presidential boards of investigation.

Citizens Committee Opens Promotion Of School Levies

The Citizens Committee for Better Schools has opened a campaign to promote passage of the school levies up for renewal at the May 5 election. Speakers will be available to inform voters on the need for the levies totaling 12 mills.

Supt. Paul Blair stressed the fact that the levies must be renewed in order to maintain funds now available for operating expenses for the schools.

He added that if the levies should be defeated "we would lose, not only the income from the 12 mills, but also approximately $1 million paid to the schools from the State Foundation program."

The two levies include 11 mills for general operating expenses and 1 mill for repair and maintenance.

The committee includes Judson English, and Edwin Maloney, co-chairmen; Frank C. Dawson, campaign chairman; Harry Martin, William Webber and William Blair, publicity chairmen, and Mrs. Dale Franklin, Mrs. Glenn Hall and Mrs. Edward Massey, Speakers' Bureau chairmen.

Members of the speakers' committee include Supt. Blair, Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, Mrs. Burchfield Cartwright, Mrs. David Beatty, Mrs. Donald Baxter, Jack Wooster, Carl Pelini, Frank Dawson, Sam Brown, Harry McConville, Dick Smith, James Moss, Clarence Means, Tom Dixon, Leo Lawrence, Edwin Maloney, Sidney Porter, English, Harry Greenwood, John Parsons, Asst. Supt. George Hargraves and James Lowe.

The committee met at the high school.

Bus Shelters Erected At 3 Stops In City

Shelters have been erected on a trial basis at three city bus stops, principally for the use of school children, but also intended to serve the general public, Councilman Donald Hancock said today.

The announcement represents at least a partial solution of a dilemma that was posed Tuesday when a contractor began erection of five of the shelters under authorization from Council, but was asked by the administration to hold up temporarily until legal questions over the sites could be cleared up.

The shelters erected and in service are at Harvey Ave. and Putnam St.; the main Thompson Park entrance, and on Lisbon St. near Sanford Ave., the councilman said.

Questions remain to be cleared up about the sites of two other shelters. One had been scheduled for use at or near the East End Fire Station on Virginia Ave. The other was scheduled to be erected on St. Clair Ave. at Gardendale.

Hancock said he checked the shelter at Harvey Ave. and Putnam St. during a rain this morning while children were en route to school. There were 18 children inside the shelter, filling it to capacity, and six more were standing in the doorway of a nearby store for protection from the rain, he said.

The buildings are being erected by a Columbus firm called Shelterall of Ohio.

Hancock said the question of erecting the shelters for a trial was referred to the franchise committee at Council's meeting March 16. The committee subsequently approved the proposal and authorized the contractor to proceed, he said. As part of the investigation, the committee learned no legislation would be needed for the trial installation, he said.

Probation Violated, City Man Sentenced

Francis Fetty, 20, of 843 Sophia St., East Liverpool, who violated terms of probation, was sentenced Thursday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin to serve out the balance of a $25 and six-month county jail terms.

Fetty was sentenced in January on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. After he served 17 days towards his fine, the balance and the jail term were suspended when he was given probation. For infraction of his probation, the judge said he must serve the eight days remaining against his fine and the six-month term. He was arrested after he and a juvenile cut holes in the upholstery of booths at the New York Restaurant.

Seek Cause Of Fire

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—Firemen were searching for the cause of a blaze that destroyed the former New York Central Railroad roundhouse, a 100-year-old landmark. The fire broke out Thursday on the second floor of the two-story structure that was used as a warehouse by a candy firm and tire company.

Driver Gets New Charges After Crash

A 26-year-old Akron driver whose car rammed steel steps of a home along W. Carolina Ave., Chester, Thursday afternoon lost investigating officers the accident was his first.

However, after a check on the records of Frederick Lee Talbot, 26, Hancock County deputies discovered a string of traffic convictions along with a prison term for forgery as part of his past, the sheriff's office reported today.

Talbot's 1963 coach veered off Route 66 just inside the city limits yesterday afternoon at 5:45, and he lost control on the left berm.

The car then went across the highway and up an embankment, hitting the steps at the home of Robert Ryan, then continued back down the embankment to the roadway, Deputy Rex Cowey said.

Talbot who said it was his first traffic encounter with officers, was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control, and was fined $10 and costs before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester.

The deputies held his car in custody, however, and obtained a check on Talbot which revealed a number of traffic offenses and the prison term.

He was subsequently charged with lack of registration for the car and driving with an expired plate.

The car and steps were heavily damaged, deputies reported.

Group Seeks Road Repairs At Ohioville

Angered by the poor condition of Route 168 from Tuscarawas Rd. to Route 251 and unable to secure any action to speed possible improvement, a delegation appealed Thursday night to Ohioville Borough Council to see if a meeting can be arranged with Gov. Will Scranton and Henry Harrah, highways secretary.

Council instructed Mrs. Emily Carroll, borough secretary, to contact the state officials to see if a meeting can be set up.

The group said the road is badly in need of repair, citing large potholes and pointing out it is less than 10 feet wide in places. It is impossible for a school bus and car to pass.

Unable to get prompt action from either the Beaver County or Pittsburgh district office of the State Highway Department, the delegation has considered barricading the highway. Council was told.

Council sometime ago contacted the state, inquiring if a borough appropriation might speed plans for rebuilding the road.

Council also approved an ordinance authorizing the purchase and acquisition by the Ohio Township Municipal Authority of the water tank, lines and wells of Midland Enterprises for $119,576.

On the recommendation of Dan Baker, borough engineer, Council awarded a contract to supply road oil to the Russell Standard Corp. of Bridgeville and slag contracts to the Midland Slag Co. and Brown Brothers Contracting of Doylestown, which also has a Midland office.

A special meeting is scheduled April 9 at 8 p.m. to discuss road construction projects which will be undertaken with funds available from 25 per cent of the liquid fuels money.

Anthony Perrotto, president, presided.

Examination Due Boy In Thievery

A 16-year-old East Liverpool boy was ordered sent to the Ohio Youth Commission at Columbus Thursday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for three burglaries in the city.

The youth, along with a 15-year-old resident of Monaca R. D. 2, were cited by East Liverpool Police for attempting to break into a vending machine at a Maplewood pharmacy, an unsuccessful attempt to break into an outdoor ice-vending machine at Sevy's Pharmacy, 2241 St. Clair Ave., and smashing a plate glass window at Bridge's Market on St. John St. in mid-March, taking two cartons of soft drinks. They also broke a 12-x-16-inch window March 17 at Finlay's Superette on St. Clair Ave. in an unsuccessful attempt to enter the food store.

The East Liverpool youth has been in and out of Juvenile Court and was given several chances, the judge said, so he was sent to the commission for examination. The other boy was turned over to Pennsylvania authorities.

By declining to second a motion for acceptance, the board at its meeting March 16 rejected another calendar which was overwhelmingly favored by the faculty, primarily because it did not include Veterans' Day as a holiday. The proposed calendar also skipped Memorial Day as a holiday.

Smith was elected unanimously at the last meeting to complete the remaining portion of the unexpired term of William C. Heasley, who resigned after moving to Ashtabula. The term will end in 1967.

Golden Star

Wisconsin's Primary Set For Tuesday

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—The nation's second presidential primary, the Wisconsin test next Tuesday, finds Democrats in a family fight and Republicans in a position to help decide the winner.

The Democratic clash could reach out to touch the programs and prestige of President Johnson, even though he is not personally entered in the race and has not directly joined the campaign.

The President is represented by favorite-son candidate Gov. John W. Reynolds, who is being challenged by Alabama's segregationist Gov. George C. Wallace.

After a cautious start marked by reserved or hostile reception Wallace has increased the tempo of his drive and has been enthusiastically received in three of his latest stops.

This was followed by an announcement from Washington Thursday night that Postmaster General John Gronouski, a former Wisconsin tax commissioner, would join the campaign against Wallace with the approval of Johnson.

Wisconsin Republican reaction will be reflected in the vote totals.

State GOP leaders won the agreement of eight of the party's presidential figures to skip the primary, in favor of an uncommitted national convention delegate slate headed by favorite son, Rep. John W. Byrnes.

Wisconsin voters are free to vote in either the Democratic or Republican races. Democrats are fearful that Republicans, with no contest of their own, will vote in the Democratic race. It has been the other way around in other years.

Wallace has said his campaign—centered on opposition to the pending civil rights bill—was "going good."

"Everybody's against me but the people," he said.

His string of warm receptions began Wednesday night when he took his campaign into a Polish-American neighborhood in Milwaukee and was greeted by a turnout crowd. He was accorded warm receptions by the Milwaukee Civic Club and the Madison Exchange Club Thursday.

Reynolds has claimed Wallace has "lied" about the impact of the civil rights bill.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Boredom Can Lead To A Weight Problem

The disruption of one's whole way of life is not easy to take in stride. A reader who has moved from one part of the country to another is now threatened with a real weight problem.

"You wrote about a housewife who is so tired out all the time. Such is my trouble, only worse.

"We moved across the country in July. Since then I have gained weight like mad. Check-ups I have had, pills also; nothing seems to help. I'm still tired and headachy. I know that it is all due to too little activity. Could you, or any of your readers, tell me where I could go for swim and gym... Is there any club with these facilities that I could join that is not too expensive? You would be helping a worried mother of four children and a husband who will soon begin to dislike his wife. I am 41."

YOU ARE right in seeking a way to get more physical exercise, but you also need stimulating interests. Since there is nothing wrong with your health, your chronic tiredness quite likely stems from sheer boredom. You are missing your friends and the stimulation afforded by your former activities. Boredom is deceptively tiring... but it's a restless weariness.

I called the YWCA here in Washington, but find there is no Y located in your town. There may be a TOPS group you could join. To find out, write to TOPS Headquarters, 3180 South 27th Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

It takes action to stir up interest. If you belong to a church, join one of its circles. The Red Cross always welcomes volunteer workers.

You recognize that turning to excess food is no help in solving your problem, for what you are missing cannot be fixed with food.

Having made the decision to take some action is a good start. Indecision flitches away precious energy. Tomorrow morning do your housework to peppy music. When the house is tidied up, put on some good walking shoes and get out and look for signs of spring. Could you walk to the library? Browse among the books. Look for an inspirational book, one to energize your mind. Or, are you interested in gardening? If you start something, interest grows.

ALSO, THIS week, decide to do something about your looks. You might start by going to a beauty shop and having your hair done. Just that will help you to feel better. You are in your young forties. That's a wonderful age. Decide that this is the spring you are going to turn yourself into an exciting woman! You are not hungry for food, but for mental stimulation.

Get into something, then other opportunities will present themselves and soon you will find life exciting and invigorating. Then slimming down and shaping up will be an adventure, not an ordeal.

Ohio Democratic Chairmen Asked To Back Young

CLEVELAND (AP)—The 88 Democratic county chairmen in Ohio have been invited to join Stephen M. Young.

Howard M. Metzbaum, Young's campaign manager, made the appeal Thursday in a letter to the county chairmen.

"We sincerely regret that John Glenn sustained the injuries which forced him to drop out of the race," Metzbaum wrote. "Now we believe it important that all elements of the Ohio Democratic Party unite behind the candidacy of Sen. Young."

Metzbaum said Glenn supporters in Toledo, Columbus, Akron and elsewhere have spoken out for Young.

"We invite them and all others to join Sen. Young's campaign team," he said.

Glenn announced Monday that he was withdrawing from Ohio's Democratic senatorial primary May 5 because of a head injury he suffered in a fall in his bathroom in Columbus Feb. 28.

Sheriff Reports 75 Jailed During March

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reports a total of 75 prisoners were received at the County Jail during March, in addition to the 34 already confined as of March 1. Eighty-two prisoners were released during the month, one was conveyed to a state institution and two mental patients were taken to state hospitals. There were 147 visitors.

Some 3,180 meals were served at a total cost of $989.19, making the average daily expense per prisoner a little over 93 cents.

Sheriff VanFossan said 258 papers were served and 6,443 radio transmissions were handled along with 1,417 phone calls at the jail. The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted 42 sets of fox feet and ears for bounty. Fees totaling $852.72 were collected by his department.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

St. Augustine Race Tension Seen Easing

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Racial tensions appeared to ease today while a civil rights lawyer prepared to appeal a federal judge's refusal to take jurisdiction in the state's cases against demonstrators.

The lack of arrests Thursday and the departure today of a prominent demonstrator apparently marked a temporary halt to demonstrations.

Police arrested 285 persons between last Saturday and Wednesday, mostly for violations of the state's trespass laws.

Mrs. Malcolm Peabody, 72, mother of Massachusetts Gov. Endicott Peabody, was scheduled to fly back to Boston today. She spent two days in jail on trespass charges and put up a $450 bond for her release.

The lull started Thursday when lawyers, Mrs. Peabody and other witnesses went to Jacksonville in an effort to have the federal court take jurisdiction in the state's cases against the jailed demonstrators.

U.S. District Judge Bryan Simpson refused to take jurisdiction, saying regular county courts could handle the cases.

"I hear opinions expressed that nobody can be acquitted," the judge said. "I suggest that maybe not many should be."

"If somebody sticks their neck in a noose and then complains that the rope burns, there isn't much to complain about," Simpson said.

The federal judge also refused to issue an injunction barring the St. Augustine Police Department from using trained police dogs for the control and breaking up of integration demonstrations.

The appeal was made by Mrs. Peabody and two other New England church women.

William Kunstler, New York attorney specializing in civil rights cases, said he would appeal Simpson's ruling to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

Three Children, Grandmother Perish In Blaze

RUSSELLVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Three children and their 64-year-old grandmother were killed late Thursday night in a fire in their one-story frame home in this Brown County village. The victims, who were found in their beds, were identified as Grace Perkins, 64, Elizabeth Ann Perkins, 2½, John Philip Perkins, 1½, and Betty Perkins, 6 months.

The children's father, Roy Perkins, 38, suffered burns but his condition was not available. Firemen found him struggling near the front door.

The mother, Virginia, 21, escaped uninjured.

Scene of the blaze is on U. S. 62 near the corporation limits of this village of about 400 seven miles east of Georgetown, the Brown County seat.

The Highway Patrol said cause of the blaze was not determined.

Rep. Hays To Address County Democrat Club

LISBON — Rep. Wayne L. Hays will be guest speaker for the Western Columbiana County Democratic Club's "Candidates Night" dinner April 25 at Knox School.

Final plans for the dinner were made at the club's executive meeting Wednesday night at the home of Merle Hardy of North Georgetown, vice president, with John Wargo of Summitville, president, presiding.

Richard Walborn of Homeworth, secretary, is program chairman. Some 350 to 400 persons are expected to attend.

The club's next meeting will be April 13 at 8 p.m. at the Hardy residence.

Pathet Lao Protest

TOKYO (AP)—The pro-Communist Pathet Lao has protested the resumption of diplomatic relations between Laos and South Viet Nam and a reported agreement allowing Vietnamese troops to chase Communist Viet Cong guerrillas on Laotian territory, Peking's New China News agency said today.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Parents Can Set Example For Manners

A growing child best acquires good manners whose parents observe good manners themselves and provide a family atmosphere of comfort, understanding and love, and where, moreover, every family member respects the rights and feelings of every other member.

Now a child does not acquire self-control from within, who has never been well-controlled from without. He needs to have learned with sufficient practice to respect the little words No and Don't before he can command himself with these inhibitions. He must learn to practice basic family routines and to obey some positive commands before he can require himself to do the many gracious acts included in good manners.

The prevailing excessive permissiveness in children — restraints to the winds — especially in the child's early years is not favorable for their acquiring good manners.

My bulletins, "Good Manners Make You Likable," "Good Manners and Self-Control" and "The Very Selfish Child," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Penn State's longest basketball winning streak stretched 17 games.

Although our children may want us to be respected by other parents, they are not much impressed when we hold up this reputation as a reason why they should learn better manners.

Our children will cooperate with us best, as a rule, in matters of manners, when they discover without our telling them so that, as they practice in good manners at home, they grow more comfortable away from home, that good manners help them to grow more likeable and to win more friends.

Then these children discover that to exercise good manners is to be thoughtful of other persons and to respect their rights and feelings; they learn we can't always put ourselves first.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This morning my sister unfolded a story so bizarre it would be rejected as a plot for a grade C movie.

June (not her real name) has been married for six years and has wanted a family from the first. Her husband is an only child and his parents have been dying for a grandchild.

Five months ago June made the joyful announcement that she was pregnant. Everyone was thrilled for her. She went into maternity clothes and flat-heeled shoes almost immediately.

Last night at a family party June seemed to be filling out her maternity skirt fairly well so I made the quiet suggestion that she release her skirt. She appeared nervous and replied, "I must talk to you about this."

This morning she confessed. She is not pregnant and never was. Even her husband is fooled. When I inquired about the "added weight" she said she had tied a sofa cushion around her middle.

I asked how she planned to get away with it and she said she hoped to go to New York, adopt a baby and bring it back as her own.

She now realizes her scheme is unrealistic and she's becoming panicky. How can she unwind this wild plan with the minimum of embarrassment? — S. D.

Dear S. D.: June should announce at once (like tomorrow) that no baby is on the way. Such announcements are not uncommon. If nosy friends or relatives ask why, how, etc., she can refuse to discuss the details.

Wrong Name

Dear Ann: I have the most wonderful dad in the world but he has one fault that embarrasses the daylight out of me. He can't get a name straight.

I've been going with the same kids for years. He should know their names as well as he knows mine. Yet he calls Bob "Bill," Cheryl is "Shirley" and Betty is "Barbara." Sometimes he will refer to the same fellow by three different names in a single conversation. Last night when my date arrived — a boy I've been going with for two years — he said, "Hello, Fred. I saw your father over at the Elks Club yesterday."

The fellow replied, "My name is Don. My father has been in the hospital for two weeks."

I know my dad does not do this intentionally. He tries to make my guests feel at home. What can be done about this? — M. BARRASSED.

Dear M: Ask your dad if he'll just skip names. If he wants to be friendly he can smile more — and keep his lip zipped.

Modern 'Sculpture'

Dear Ann Landers: For the umpteenth time I have come home from the beauty shop looking as if I had been skinned. What are the magic words that will convey to the beauty operator that you only want a little taken off — that you don't want to look like Yul Brynner?

I hate to be a cranky customer who directs every snip like a back-seat driver, but even when I beg them to "take it easy with the scissors" I still get hacked to pieces.

Fortunately my hair grows fast, but it took seven weeks to recover from the last "trim." Today it happened again. I wanted to look especially nice for tonight and I'm a mess. I can't afford a wig. Please tell me what to do next time. — FEEL LIKE CRYING.

Dear Crying: Most operators prefer to cut the hair wet ... with a razor. This is the correct method but it requires skill.

Since you've had the same problem repeatedly, your operator must be a klunk. Insist that she (or he) cut your hair dry — with a scissors — so you can see the result of every snip.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Farmers Dump Milk

BELLAIRE, Ohio (AP)—Several thousand gallons of milk were dumped Thursday by about 40 farmers in Belmont, Jefferson and Harrison counties because dairy companies in the area refused to buy the milk.

The farmers quit the Dairy-men's Cooperative Sales Association earlier this week, complaining dues were too high. The dairies said they could not pick up the milk without violating contracts with the association.

Federal Jury Indicts

2 On Counterfeiting

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two men arrested Feb. 29 when Secret Service agents smashed a $100,000 counterfeiting ring have been indicted by a federal grand jury.

William Edward Lewis Jr., 33, of Cincinnati was indicted Thursday on two counts of possessing counterfeit money and one each on passing counterfeit money and possessing counterfeit equipment.

The jury also indicted David Henderlight, 30, of Mason on two counts of passing counterfeit money last November.

Ohioan's Body Found

Victim Of Tidal Wave

CLEVELAND (AP)—The body of Coast Guardman Frank O. Reed, 22, of suburban North Olmsted, swept from his post by a tidal wave from the Alaskan earthquake March 28, has been recovered.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Reed, were informed by telegram that their son's body was recovered Thursday from the water off Kayak Island. Reed was at the Cape St. Elias Lighthouse, 150 miles south of Anchorage, when the wave hit.

Will Be In 4 Colors

Ohio's Official Road Map To Be Larger Than '62's

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's first official highway map since 1962 will be larger and have seven or eight smaller maps on the back. It will be in four colors.

Several state agencies are working together on it and hope to have a half-million ready for distribution at the state and county fairs and elsewhere this summer.

Printing of the first 500,000 is expected to cost $50,000 or more. This compares with $30,000 for a half-million of the 1962 maps. Officials hope to let a printing contract before May 1.

The road map itself will be the same size as the last one, but the sheet on which it is printed will be widened to about 44 inches.

Major street outline maps for eight of the state's largest cities have been moved from the back to the front, and six others discarded.

The seven or eight smaller maps on the back will show location of agriculture, industry, historical sites, recreation spots, transportation outlets, water resources and educational facilities.

These will be reprinted—the number depending on advance demand—with additional state promotional material on the back, and used to answer requests about these subjects.

The back also will have color photographs of Ohio's major attractions. The present "Ohio in the Civil War" and "Ohio in the War of 1812" sections will be included in the historical sites map.

For the first time, state development officials are joining the Highway Department in planning the map. Agriculture, education and natural resources officials also had a hand.

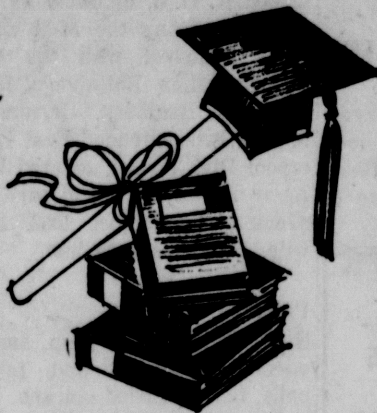

Since the end of 1962, the state has been using up the last 350,000 - copy edition of the 1962 map. Gov. James A. Rhodes' name was printed over that of his predecessor, Michael V. DiSalle.

TEST TUBE BABIES

Q. Do "test tube" babies have the same legal rights as other children?

A. We presume that you refer to situations involving artificial insemination. If the husband is the father there seems to be no legal problems. When the situation involves a father (donor) who is not the husband, things get pretty mixed up. In a recent divorce action involving a husband and wife who had both consented to donor insemination, the court ruled that the non-father husband was legally responsible for the support of the child. However, the court did not rule on the property rights of the child.

COLOR BLINDNESS

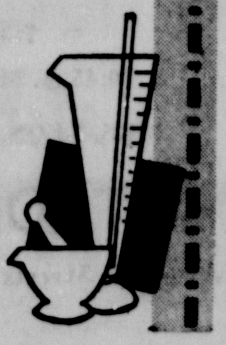

Q. Is color blindness inherited?

A. Yes, in most cases. The defect seems to be passed along from the mother to male children. About 5 per cent of all males are "color blind," usually to red and green. Complete color blindness in which everything appears in shades of white to black is very rare.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruce —

DEAR HELOISE: Do the sleeves of your favorite sweater stretch and keep sliding down on your arms?

Here is the way I solved this problem:

Buy enough grosgrain ribbon to go around your arm or wrist at the point where you want the sleeves to stay.

Shrink the ribbon BEFORE measuring, by pre - washing in HOT water.

Sew a seam so that the band will fit your arm exactly. Then attach the grosgrain band to the inside of the ribbing on the bottom of your sleeves.

You will find that the sleeve will not slip down.

This works equally well on the sleeves of a nylon jersey or wool jersey dress.

MRS. C. A. BARRETT.

How did you discover this? You should be given a degree — a PHD for Professional Housewives' Discovery!

After all, nearly all of us do wear sweaters, and have nylon and wool jersey dresses.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who have a baby who wears white shoes with dark soles that always seem to come off on the white part of baby's shoes — polish the shoes as usual, and after polishing the soles with the original color (black or brown), let the polish dry thoroughly and then apply a coat or two of clear fingernail polish over the dark color.

Your baby's shoes will never be streaked on the side as they usually are.

MOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: When the kitchen sink is on a blank side of the kitchen with no window (which is very depressing to me, anyhow) I find a mirror helps relieve the dullness. (Though sometimes, looking at myself after an hour of dishes, etc., it doesn't seem such a good idea!)

One year I had a calendar of abstract art reproductions over the sink to stare at. One a month. Took a month to figure each one out. . . .

"CABIN FEVER."

DEAR HELOISE: I always had a hard time getting my tiebacks even when hanging my ruffled curtains after laundering them. I noticed that I had lots of holes on the edge of the window frames from previous times.

So I just used a black marking pencil to circle the correct hole. No more guessing next wash day and it sure saves time.

When taking in my clothes, I have a laundry cart and a basket. I put the ironable things in the cart and all of the other things for folding — in the basket. No more pawing through the whole laundry. And, thank you, dear Heloise. I love your column.

BLONDIE.

DEAR HELOISE: The rage for printed pillowcases has all the gals in our neighborhood using old cotton skirts. . . . One can usually get three pillowcases out of an ordinary gathered skirt.

M. R. J.

DEAR HELOISE: When icing a cake and the icing does not get thick and runs down the side of the cake . . . sift some powdered sugar over it and just watch the dripping stop.

MRS. M. RUPPEL.

DEAR HELOISE: I save all of my small foil pans for meat pies and use them when making small upside - down cakes. These cakes can be frozen in the same pans, thawed and warmed slightly if desired.

Very nice for small families or for quick desserts.

HARRY MOORE.

Editor At Newark Retires; Once Worked On City Papers

Paul W. Reed, former East Liverpool reporter, retired today as managing editor of the Newark Advocate after a 49 - year career as an Ohio newspaperman.

Reed began his career on the former East Liverpool Morning Tribune, inheriting the old Oliver typewriter the late O. O. McIntyre left behind when he went to New York City to win fame as a columnist.

Early in his newspaper work Reed typed the Associated Press "pony" report—before the days of the teletype transmission system, taking three 15 - minute transmissions nightly by telephone.

He also began an era when an artist's sketch on chalkplate was the only illustration in the newspaper.

He worked on the East Liverpool Review and the Cleveland Press, and the Alliance Review as managing editor, going to the Newark Advocate as managing editor 16 years ago.

Reed served in the Officers Training Corps in World War I and retired from service in World War II with the rank of major in the Army Intelligence Corps. Early in World War II he served on the Ohio Newspaper Board of Censorship.

Reed plans to continue writing his daily column under the pen name of P. Wendell, which has appeared in Ohio newspapers for more than 36 years, and will remain active in Newark civic and fraternal affairs.

Youth Hurt In Crash Still Listed 'Critical'

NEW CUMBERLAND — Willard N. Fisher, 19, of Littleton remains in "critical" condition today in Weirton General Hospital with injuries received in an auto crash that claimed the life of a companion Wednesday afternoon on Hardins Run Rd., two miles east.

He suffered a fractured skull and multiple injuries when his car left the road and was literally wrapped around a tree, sheriff's deputies said. They blamed excessive speed. Both were trapped in the wreckage.

The body of Carl W. Robinson, 49, of Littleton, who was killed in the mishap, was returned to Burton for services. An inquest is slated tonight at 7:30 at the office of Coroner John D. Herron in New Cumberland.

Dayton Sued By Paper In Rights Case

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — City officials have promised to fight a civil rights suit resulting from the arrest of a newspaper reporter at the scene of a fire.

The suit, filed Thursday by the Dayton Daily News, named as defendants City Manager Herbert A. Starick, Safety Director Charles W. Horlacher, Law Director Herbert S. Beane, Police Chief Lawrence Caylor and three other members of the police force.

It alleges that the civil rights of Harry Kennedy Jr., Daily News reporter, were violated by his arrest March 2 at a fire in Dayton's Beckel Hotel.

"We sure will contest it," Beane said.

Starick said officials were not surprised that the suit was filed. "They indicated that unless we withdrew the charges against Kennedy they would file this suit. We do not feel the charges should be withdrawn."

Kennedy was charged with disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and obstructing officers in their duty.

The newspaper seeks in the action to enjoin the city of Dayton from preventing the use of streets for "purpose of investigating and reporting a fire when use . . . does not interfere with or jeopardize the activities of the department."

Kennedy has filed a $27,500 damage suit against Police Sgt. Virgil N. Reck and patrolman Fred B. Watts, charging false arrest and assault.

Watts and Reck also were named in the newspaper's civil rights suit which was filed in U.S. District Court here.

Should Get Your $1 Worth . . .

Admission to the Tri-State tournament which gets underway tonight at Memorial Auditorium is $1 and we feel with the talent in this year's tourney everyone should get their buck's worth.

In the past few years, the tournament hasn't been what it used to be but the small field of 10 teams which make up the 1964 tourney is as good as you'll find anywhere.

All 10 teams are loaded with college talent representing about 12 different schools, so where else could you get a bargain like this for a $1.

We hope the district sports fans give the tournament their support.

THERE IS a chance that Ollie Rankin, the self-styled All-American from Cambridge, will show up for the Tri-State Tourney. We're sure all who have followed the Tri-State tournament in the past remember Mr. Rankin.

Ensinger To Coach At BG . . .

RON ENSINGER, former third sacker for Beaver Local and Bowling Green University, has accepted the job as assistant freshman baseball coach at Bowling Green.

A junior, Ron won't be playing varsity baseball but plans to play some independent ball and coach.

He played two years on the BG varsity before deciding to work towards his ambition as a coach. He is majoring in physical education.

Ron is planning to stay at Bowling Green for his Master's Degree in physical education.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

SUPT. C. P. HENDERSON reports that he has received 20 applications so far for the football job at Stanton Local.

Ed Oliver, a former all-stater from East Liverpool, is expected to apply for the job. The ex-Miami gridders wants to get back in this area. He is now coaching at Wakefield High School in Arlington, Va.

WHILE speaking about the Irondale area, Junior Hart, Irondale's two-time All-Ohio basketball star, was home for the Easter holidays.

Hart, a lightning fast forward for Irondale, made the All-Ohio first team in 1944 when he scored 350 points. Only 5-8, he had made the second all-state team in 1943.

We are pleased to learn that he is still active in sports as basketball coach at William Henry High School in Dover, Del. Hart is married and has an eight-year-old daughter.

THE BOARD of Education will meet Monday night and it is about that time of the year when contracts for the football and basketball jobs are discussed, but according to Supt. Paul Blair no discussion is planned Monday on the contracts of Jim Harris or Bob Hedmond.

TWO SONS of a former East Liverpool basketball star are members of the Deerfield (Ill.) team which captured the Little Guys basketball state championship recently.

Kurt and Rick Horton, sons of Dick Horton who played at ELHS in 1944-45 and then went on to be a standout for Mt. Union, helped Deerfield to the state title.

By winning the state crown, Deerfield advanced to the International championships which got underway this week at Highland Park, (Ill.) and was to meet a team from Puerto Rico in its first game.

Little Guys basketball is for youths under five feet tall in the 11 and 12-year age bracket.

Dick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Horton, 1206 Riverview St.

CREDIT Ed Blazer with another 700 series. He turned in a 709 Thursday night in the American League bowling for the Wellsville Feed team.

Ed got off to a good start by hitting a sharp 265, fired 226 in the second round and wound up with a 218.

RON WILLIAMS who has decided to continue his education and basketball career at West Virginia University was named to the second All-American cage team announced by Parade last Sunday.

Rodriguez Meets Smith In Tune Up

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jesse Smith, former ranking welterweight on the comeback trail, says the 2-1 odds against him in tonight's bout with title contender Luis Rodriguez are nothing to worry about.

"I never fought a guy I didn't think I could whip," said Smith, who was dropped from rankings after a seven-month layoff last year.

In 44 fights, Smith has knocked out 24 opponents in his 36 victories. Ring veterans remember the Philadelphia boxer as the one who rocked former heavyweight champion Sonny Liston with powerful left hooks during a 1959 training stint.

But the Cuban-born Rodriguez now fighting out of Miami, picked Smith for a tune-up fight to prepare for his June 12 title bout with champion Emile Griffith.

He is hunting his 56th victory in 60 fights having won all but one of his last 14 contests since 1961.

Colts Sign Wilson

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts of the National Football League announced today that former Alabama half-back Butch Wilson has agreed to terms for the 1964 season.

Former Army Coach Speaks At S. Local

George Hunter of Youngstown, former basketball coach at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, will be speaker for the annual Southern Local High School basketball banquet April 11 at the school.

Hunter, now a sales representative for a chemical company, is a graduate and former coach at Mount Union College at Alliance.

Al Girone, Southern Local coach, will introduce the varsity players, and Tom Rodfong, freshman coach, and Robert Carter, reserve coach, will introduce their teams.

The dinner, sponsored by the Athletic Boosters Club, and the meal will be prepared by the mothers of the players.

The toastmaster will be the Rev. Delbert Miller of the Assembly of God.

About 350 are expected. Tickets are available from Joe Feth, Girone or Robert Hays according to Tom Leek, high school principals. Fathers of the boys will be guests.

Penn State intercepted 15 enemy passes during the 1963 football campaign. Don Caum and Junior Powell intercepted four each.

10 Teams Go After Tri-State Crown

CAL SHEFFIELD
Pitt Star Here Tonight.

Tonight's 6-Game Card Opens At 7

With Shaffer's Trucking not around to defend its title, a new champion will be crowned in the 39th annual Tri-State tournament which opens a two-night stand at Memorial Auditorium.

Six games are on tap tonight as 10 teams seek the title. After tonight's firing only four teams will remain to form the semi-final field for Saturday night.

THE 1964 tourney appears to have the classiest field in several years with topnotch college talent making up the 10 teams.

No favorite has been established as the tournament appears to be a wide open affair.

The Auto Body Supply of East Liverpool figures to be very much on top in last week's Wellsville tourney. The roster shows Tom Lowry of West Virginia U. who scored 52 points in two games at Wellsville along with Herb Lake, Gene Lake, Ed Fleming, the ex-Niagara star, Myles Witchey, Frank Chan, Nick Pallotta, Gus Dauka and Bill Thornberry.

RIVERVIEW Florists poses a strong combine in Youngstown University, which includes Red Jones, the Little All-American this season, Jim Timmerman, Larry Seneta, Jim Himmelwright and Harold Davis who was a big gun at Westminster in his college days.

United Electronics may pose a problem with Cal Sheffield and Paul Krieger of Pitt University's NIT team leading the local entry. Sheffield, considered one of the top backcourt men in college basketball this season, led the Panthers in scoring. Krieger stands 6-6.

If the United five can gain the semi-finals Pitt's Brian Generalovich may join the Electronics for Saturday night's action.

OTHER members of the United teams are Bob Zak, ex-Staubenville College cager, Jack Thayer, Jim Potts and Jerry Murawski. United may also add John Fridley, a Pitt star of two year's ago.

Another strong team from Pittsburgh will be the Wagon Wheel Bar led by Duquesne's Denny Cuff, John Cegalis, Pat Schipani and Rege Malady along with Pitt's Dave Roman.

Amo's Esso has entered a squad of ex-Geneva collegians including Biff Aultman, Bill Hewko, Jim Irons, Larry Zeh, George Keteckovica, Elmer Reed, George Berkheiser and Jack Hemer.

Tonight's Tri-State Tourney Schedule

7 — City Grill (Irondale) vs. World Book & Bible Store (ELO) 7:25 — Uncle Pete's (Wellsville) vs. George Bright's (ELO) 8:40 — United Electronics (ELO) vs. White Insurance (ELO) 9:05 — Wagon Wheel (Pittsburgh) vs. Amo's Esso (Rochester) 10:20 — Riverview Florists (ELO) vs. winner of game No. 1. 10:45 — Auto Body Supply (ELO) vs. winner of Game No. 2

RON GALBREATH, a Little All-American choice at Westminster will head up a band of former Titans to perform for Francis P. White Insurance Agency.

George Bright's last team to enter will show Bob Baker and Stan Brown of Staubenville High along with other top high school cagers from that area.

Entry List Shows 6 Teams So Far In Next Week's Nonpareil Tourney

The entry list for the Blue and White Nonpareil Club's Junior Basketball Tournament hit six today.

Officials announced that the tourney will be held three days next week instead of four with games scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Memorial Auditorium. The deadline for entries is Sunday midnight.

The club is attempting to bring together some of the outstanding high school basketball talent in a three-state area. Two local sponsors are included in the list of six entries. Eason's Insurance will enter a team composed of talent from the local area plus several Steubenville district cagers.

Will Play In Home State

Weirton's Fritz Williams To Enroll At W. Virginia

WEIRTON — Ron (Fritz) Williams, three-time all-state high school basketball star and one of the most sought college prospects this season, announced today he plans to enroll at West Virginia University.

The 19-year-old star, who averaged 30 points a game in his career at Weirton High School, was accompanied by WVU coach George King when he announced his intentions.

WILLIAMS scored about 700 points last season as he led Weirton to the finals of the State Class AAA tournament. Weirton made it to the state finals for the last three years, winning the championship in 1963. The Red Riders lost to Logan in this year's championship game.

In his career as a regular at Weirton, Williams scored more than 2,100 points. He stands 6-3 and weighs 180 pounds.

COLLEGE scouts had devoted considerable attention to Williams.

King, after seeing him play in the state tournament as a sophomore, said: "He's just about good enough to play college ball right now."

Willie Akers, coach of the Logan team that beat Weirton in this year's Class AAA finals, remarked after the championship game: "Williams is the greatest high school basketball player I've ever seen."

WILLIAMS had been scheduled to look over the campuses of Bradley, Cincinnati and Wichita universities in the near future. He will go to Morgantown Sunday night to receive the Touchdown Club's award as the state's outstanding player.

Officials of the WVU athletic office could not be reached immediately for comment.

Villanova's Jones Shines In Olympic Cage Trials

NEW YORK (AP)—The NCAA emerged as the team to beat and Villanova's flashy Wally Jones as one of the brightest stars after first-round action in the U.S. Olympic basketball trials.

"Oh, but what a pair they'd make," UCLA Coach John Wooden said today. "Just imagine Jones and (Walt) Hazzard in the same backcourt. They'd make somebody sit up and take notice."

Jones, a fancy playmaker with all the moves, piloted the Reds to a whopping 86-63 decision over the Armed Forces Missiles Thursday in a first-round game at St. John's University and delighted the crowd with his spectacular ball handling and passing.

In the other first-rounders, the AAU Stars upset the NCAA Blues 82-76; the NCAA Whites beat the Armed Forces Jets 74-64 and the NAIA All-Stars edged the AAU Stripes 77-74.

Actually, the team scores make but little difference since the Olympic Selection Committee will make its choices by individuals rather than by teams. In all, 94 players from throughout the country are competing for the 12 Olympic berths, plus six alternates.

5 Teams Express Interest In Chester Softball Loop

Five teams expressed interest in the Chester City Softball League at a meeting Wednesday night and league commissioners were named.

The five squads included Midland USW 1212, Gallagher's, American Vit., Chester Merchants and the Hancock County Savings & Loan.

Appointed as commissioners were Glenn Barnett, Ralph Hobbs, Albert Logston and Clarence Moore.

The City Park Commission was represented by Harold Dickey and Lawrence Cline and arrangements were made for the City League to have complete charge of the field.

The next meeting will be April 15 at Chester City Hall when officers will be elected. Any teams interested should have a representative present.

Birdie Reported As Satisfactory

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts was reported "in satisfactory condition and doing well" early today, but doctors still wouldn't make any predictions as to when the Cleveland Indians manager would return to action.

The attending physician at St. Mary's Hospital, where Tebbetts was taken Wednesday night after a heart attack, said tests indicate there has been "some tissue damage." The doctor said no one can make positive statements about a coronary for four or five days.

The 54-year-old manager was described as resting well and not in pain.

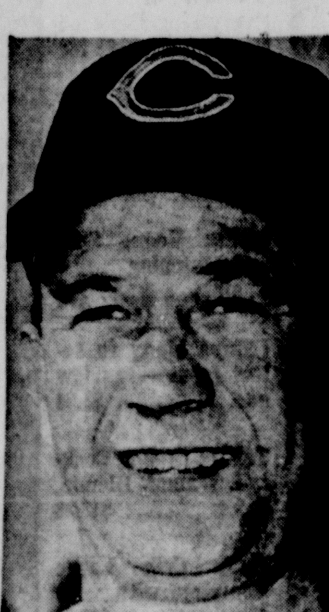

His wife, Mary, said he complained of intense chest pains after a late dinner. He was hospitalized about an hour later.

Earlier in the day, Tebbetts put the Indians through a lengthy workout, then took time out for a round of golf.

Tebbetts, manager of the Indians since the end of the 1962 season, went on a weight-lossing campaign last June.

In September, he reportedly stepped up his efforts when his brother, William, suffered a fatal heart attack.

Although doctors refused to say when Tebbetts might be ready for action, Indian officials emphasized that the manager would not attempt to return until he definitely is recovered.

GEORGE STRICKLAND Will Take Charge Of Tribe.

"I know one thing for sure," said Tribe president and general manager Gabe Paul. "He is not going to come back to endanger his health."

Paul predicted, after talking with the doctors, that Tebbetts would be hospitalized about six weeks. Paul added, "I do not see how anyone can expect Birdie to be back in less than two months."

Third base coach George Strickland has been named acting manager while Tebbetts is recovering.

 Milwaukee officials don't mind if Joe Torre remains angry with them the entire season. They wouldn't even mind trying the same tactics next season — if the final results this year are as profitable as the beginning.
 For Torre, however, a repeat performance by the Braves' management wouldn't be profitable. That's what made him angry this year. He arrived at camp about three weeks late following a long contract hassle with President John McHale.
 Now after only two weeks, the

Snead Takes 3-Shot Lead At Greensboro

By KEN ALYTA
 Associated Press Sports Writer
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus hadn't been born back in 1938 when Sam Snead won the inaugural Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament for the first of his seven victories in Greensboro.

Young Jack, now a powerful 24-year-old, had a good look at 51-year-old Sam Thursday as the PGA senior champion shot eight birdies and grabbed a three-stroke first - round lead with a superb seven-under-par 64.

Nicklaus was to get another good look at Sam today. They were paired together for the first two rounds of the 72-hole tournament.

Nicklaus, sharpening his game for next week's defense of the Masters championship, had this to say of the old master after he had posted a 70 to trail Sam by six shots:
 "Sam is amazing. He has enough nerve to play shots the way they should be played. Some men at his age play what you might call 'skinny' golf. But he keeps hitting the ball close to the pin. He is amazing."

When Nicklaus won the Masters last spring, Snead was only two strokes off the pace in a third-place tie. He has won the classic three times, the last in 1954.

Although he has curtailed his tournament play sharply in recent years, the old slammer from the Virginia hills has been amazingly sharp in his few appearances.

He has taken away more than $27,000 from Greensboro, where his record includes seven victories and eight seconds or thirds.

His 64 Thursday was good for a $400 bonus check, awarded daily for the low round.

Sam had one three-putt green for his only bogey and had four birdies on each side of the 7,000-yard Sedgefield Country Club course, with par of 36-35.

Starting today's play, Australian Bill Dunk and George Bayar were in second place at 67, one shot in front of U.S. Open champion Julius Boros.

Six men shared fifth place at 69, among them British Open champ Bob Charles and Gene Littler.

Joining Nicklaus at 70 were six men, including Arnold Palmer. Still without a victory this year, Palmer started the first three holes three over par, then unleashed seven birdies.

23-year-old catcher-first baseman is batting .500. His two-run homer in the 11th inning powered the Braves to a 7-5 triumph over Pittsburgh Thursday, their 13th in 16 exhibition games. The winning blow was Torre's fourth hit of the day.

Torre, whose brother, Frank, also played for the Braves, accepted less money than he wanted to let one man spoil my career," He referred to McHale.

The Brooklyn native reportedly signed for about $25,000. McHale said he had asked for a 100 per cent increase over his 1963 salary of $17,500.

Dancer, 24 Others Tune Up For Derby In 4 Rich Races

By ORLO ROBERTSON
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 Canadian - owned Northern Dancer and 24 other 3-year-old thoroughbreds are slated to present their Kentucky Derby credentials for consideration Saturday in four rich races topped by the $100,000-added Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park.

In addition to the 1 1/8 miles of the Florida Derby for which Northern Dancer is the 4-5 favorite, the prep for the May 2 running of the blue ribbon event at Churchill Downs includes the one mile of the $50,000-added Gotham at Aqueduct, the 1 1/4 miles of the $25,000-added Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park and the one mile of the $15,000-added California Derby Trial at Golden Gate Fields.

Other 3-year-olds also are slated to go in the four stakes but it is the Kentucky Derby candidates that figure to be in the spotlight. The Florida Derby and Gotham each look for nine entries with eight in each pointing for the big Kentucky race. Five of the probable Arkansas Derby starters and four of the likely California Derby Trial field are Kentucky Derby eligibles. Each expect to draw 14 starters.

Northern Dancer, second only to Hill Rise as the Kentucky Derby future book choice, will be ridden by Bill Shoemaker in quest of his second straight Florida Derby triumph. The 33-year-old Shoe won last year with Candy Spots.

The Dancer, never worse than third in 12 starts and winner of nine races, will pack 122 pounds

2 Swimmers Set Records In AAU Meet

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Californians Dick Roth and Roy Saari owned records today, but Saari faced a tough test in a "dream race" in his bid to win three titles again at the AAU indoor swimming meet here.

Roth, a 16-year-old Santa Clara high school junior, sliced more than three seconds off the American 400-yard medley record set by Saari last year. Saari bested his chief rival, Roth's Santa Clara teammate Don Schollander, to win his specialty, the 1,650-yard freestyle, in 16:49.3, an American record.

Saari, 19-year-old Southern California sophomore, has won three titles in each of the last two AAU indoor meets. But today he faced two of the country's best short-distance freestyle swimmers, fellow California Schollander and Steve Clark in the 200-yard race.

Roth beat Germany's Gerhard Hetz, the world record holder, in the 400-meter medley, by four yards in 4:13.2. Hetz, at 4:15.8, and Indiana's Ted Stuckles, at 4:16.3, also bettered Saari's old mark of 4:16.6.

Confusion is high at the Los Angeles Angels spring training camp in Palm Springs, Calif., when Manager Bill Rigney calls on a fellow names Lee to pitch. He has three of them—Don, Bob and Mike.

In his third year with Milwaukee, Torre batted .283, the best average among catchers in the major leagues.

Houston's Jim Wynn also came through in an extra-inning effort, smashing a 12th-inning grand-slam home run which gave the Colts an 8-4 victory against the New York Mets.

Six of the other seven exhibition contests were decided by one run. Only Cincinnati's 8-3 triumph over Detroit was not a close game.

St. Louis handed Sandy Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers a 2-1 setback while Minnesota rallied in the eighth for a 2-1 victory against the New York Yankees. Philadelphia nipped Kansas City in still another 2-1 game on John Herrnstein's ninth-inning single.

Dick Dietz' single in the ninth carried San Francisco over Cleveland 4-3, three walks by rookie Wally Bunker in the ninth paved the way for the Chicago White Sox' 8-7 triumph against Baltimore and the Los Angeles Angels squeezed by the Chicago Cubs 6-5, giving Ken McBride his fourth decision.

Royals Drop 2nd Straight To Celtics

By BOB HOOBING
BOSTON (AP)—"We just laid down," said frustrated Cincinnati Coach Jack McMahon. "If we get this kind of performance, I don't expect we'll win again. The Celtics will sweep us in four."

McMahon held his post-mortem outside the wake-like Royals' dressing room Thursday night after Boston defeated his team 101-90 and took a commanding 2-0 lead in the Eastern Division playoff final.

The best-of-seven National Basketball Association series now moves to Cincinnati Sunday and Tuesday nights. No team in NBA playoff annals ever has been down 0-2 in a seven-game set and pulled it out.

St. Louis, which entered the Western Division final as the underdog, takes a one-game edge into Friday night's second contest at San Francisco.

"The Celtics were aggressive," McMahon said. "We wouldn't even go after a loose ball. I'm disgusted with this team. On switches when a Boston player got by, my boys would say 'oops,' shrug and then figure it wasn't their responsibility any more."

"Look, we're the highest-scoring team in the league and we've got 87 and 90 points in the playoffs. Are they tired? How the devil can they be tired?"

"I said Jerry Lucas was 30 per cent cut that back condition. Heck, he's not even 10 per cent. He looks like he's afraid to bounce the ball. He must be in pain. He keeps telling me he can play, but he can't."

"Jack Twyman had a good shooting game with 27 points but he gave up that many on defense. Oscar Robertson got 30? He'll get that many if he just gets the ball."

"I think that K. C. Jones of the Celtics is your star. He hustled, he worked the ball in and gave Boston a great game."

"K. C. Jones was great, the whole show," echoed Lucas. "I never before played a game in my life when I didn't score at least one basket."

Lucas was held to three free throws and seven rebounds. "They played a good ball game, we played a better one," commented Boston Coach Red Auerbach. "We certainly aren't overconfident by any stretch of the imagination."

Tommy Heinsohn got 31 points and Sam Jones 25 to pace Boston scoring.

The Los Angeles Dodgers listed 24 spring exhibition games in Florida but only six of them were scheduled for their Vero Beach training site.

Giants Sign Brown
NEW YORK (AP)—Roosevelt Brown, the New York Giants' 32-year-old star tackle, has signed for his 12th pro season in the National Football League, the club said Thursday.

Your Merc dealer invites you to compare

Merc's high-strength design and construction with any competitor's outboard

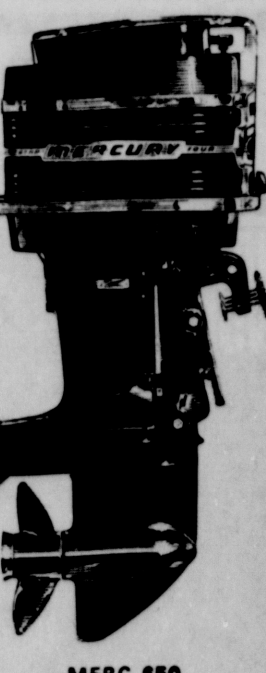

From their powerheads to their shear-proof props, Mercs are designed and constructed to last . . . with less maintenance and cost to you.

The entire engine block of a Merc is one-piece die-cast aluminum. There is no head gasket to blow . . . fewer joint faces to loosen and leak. The pistons in a Merc are forged aluminum . . . lighter in construction yet tougher, more durable and cooler running than the cast aluminum pistons found in most competitors' outboards.

Mercury's aluminum drive shaft housing is die-cast in one piece. It does not depend on the holding power of nuts, bolts, studs and miscellaneous parts.

The forged-aluminum clamp brackets on a Merc are heat-treated to the strength of steel and are virtually unbreakable. Even on the higher horsepower Mercs, the clamp brackets have wing bolts that clamp to the transom . . . in addition to a provision for security bolts through the transom. The lower unit of a Merc has more backbone than that of any other outboard. It is die-cast in one piece to keep the husky gears and shafts permanently aligned. There is no protruding nose to snag rocks and logs or gather weeds. The gearshift is mechanical with no underwater electrical parts to short out. The Jet-Prop has no shear pins. It is spline driven and is protected by a live-rubber safety clutch that yields momentarily on impact.

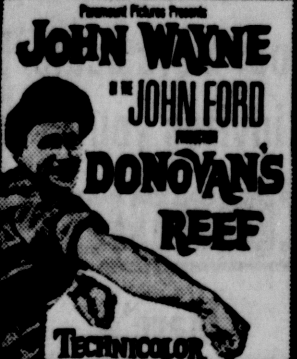

These are just a few of the comparisons in design and construction that you can make. Your Merc dealer can point out many more. See him soon. See how you can get more RUN for your money with Mercury . . . 100, 85, 65, 50, 35, 20, 9.8, 6 and 3.9 hp outboards and MerCruiser Stern Drives . . . 110 to 310 hp gasoline; 60 and 100 hp diesel.

Hit-Skip Auto Mishap Bends Metal Railings

Metal railings enclosing a stairway leading to the basement of the City Market were damaged in a hit-skip auto mishap Thursday about 8:12 p.m., police were told by Harold Harris, 3230 Curry Rd., the owner.

The unidentified car bent the railings which enclose a stairway leading into the cellar of the store from Potters Alley, about 30 feet off St. Clair Ave., officers said.

Harris said he was working in the basement of the store when he heard a noise. Investigating, he found an auto had backed into the railings. He said he saw the car drive away without stopping.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

O'Brien Tells Of The Old Days

Over the course of his 64 years, Pat O'Brien has seen a bit of the theater, the movies and television. On TV, he had a good run in "Harrison and Son," he has popped up here and there in one-shot roles, and he's coming along in "Bob Hope Theater" drama presentation tonight at 8:30, as a retired safe cracker who doesn't cotton to his new partner (Anthony Franciosa).

"So Milestone signed me up to play Hildy in the movie version of 'Front Page.' I don't know where I'd be today if Hearst hadn't blown that ticket."

"ADOLPHE MENJOU played my managing editor, Walter Burns, in the movie and had one of the great curtain lines of all time: 'The blankety blank stole my watch!' Milestone told him, 'You gotta say it.'"

"Menjou said, no, he couldn't. So Milestone worked it out that the cuss word would come along at the same instant Menjou leaned against a typewriter and wzzzzup-ning!"

"It took 36 takes! Imagine, 36 takes before the bell and the cuss word could synchronize! 'The other great curtain line was, of course, 'Wait for baby!' in 'What Price Glory?' I didn't get to play in that until 10 years ago when Ward Bond and I were Quirt and Flagg for John Ford at the Masquers Club and then took it all up and down the coast."

"Forty-four years ago, in the roaring '20s, Cagney and I were chorus boys in the New York theater, he in a show called 'Adrian' and I in something called 'Pittierpat.'"

"Before that, I'd been in the Navy with a boyhood chum of mine, Spencer Tracy. We'd been together. And later, we were to graduate from high school together, in our uniforms. We studied acting together. And then came the chorus boy jobs."

"STOCK was the great apprenticeship. A potential star doesn't have that apprenticeship any more. In the stock company, we'd do 58 to 68 roles a year. It was different every week. And we'd be doing four things simultaneously; we'd be studying a part, we'd be forgetting a part, we'd be rehearsing a part—a four-way parlay."

"An actor now, if he goes at it with some zeal, can attain his salvation in summer stock. The theater's no romp, though, and no director can teach acting. You've just got to act and act and act, and maybe some day you're good. Then on top of that you need a break."

"MY BREAK came at the dawn of the '30s, when I was playing opposite Dorothy Stickney at the Biltmore Theater in 'Up and Up.' Across the street at the Mansfield, 'The Green Pastures' was going."

"One night, William Randolph Hearst took a large party of people to see 'Green Pastures,' as he was in the habit of doing. But he was short a ticket; and one of his guests, the director, Lewis Milestone, volunteered to take in the nearby show, 'Up and Up,' and then rejoin the party later."

"I played a bookmaker and had a great staccato scene in which I was bookin' horses and makin' love at the same time. It was as fast talking as the part of Hildy Johnson in 'The Front Page.'"

First Resolution Introduced For Union's Meeting

Local Union 33 at Beaver Falls has proposed the first of a long series of resolutions expected to go into the hopper before the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery opens its annual convention in July in Long Beach, Calif.

The chinaware local, representing employees of the Mayer China Co., introduced a measure proposing that the chairmanship of the IBOP's Board of Trustees shall be determined by seniority.

The resolution points out that the board now is comprised of the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seven vice presidents, with the third vice president as chairman.

It points out that the third vice president might be defeated or retire from office, leaving his successor as chairman of the board despite low seniority.

The resolution proposes that the composition of the board would remain unchanged, but the vice president with the most seniority would be chairman.

OFF THE RECORD

"I can start work immediately if I can have the rest of the afternoon off."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I facilitate the job of mending chinaware or glass items?

A. If you'll use some modeling clay to hold your chipped pieces together while the mending cement is hardening and doing its work, you'll be making your job much easier and more effective.

Q. How can I treat ink stains on rugs?

A. These should be covered immediately with fresh milk, then mopped up. Cover the spot with cornstarch for a few minutes, run the vacuum cleaner over it, and then wash the spot with mild soap and water.

Q. How can I test a dyed fabric to ascertain whether the dye is a "fast" color?

A. Dampen a small area of the dyed cloth, then rub it on a piece of clean, white paper. If this leaves no stain on the paper, you can be sure your dye is fast.

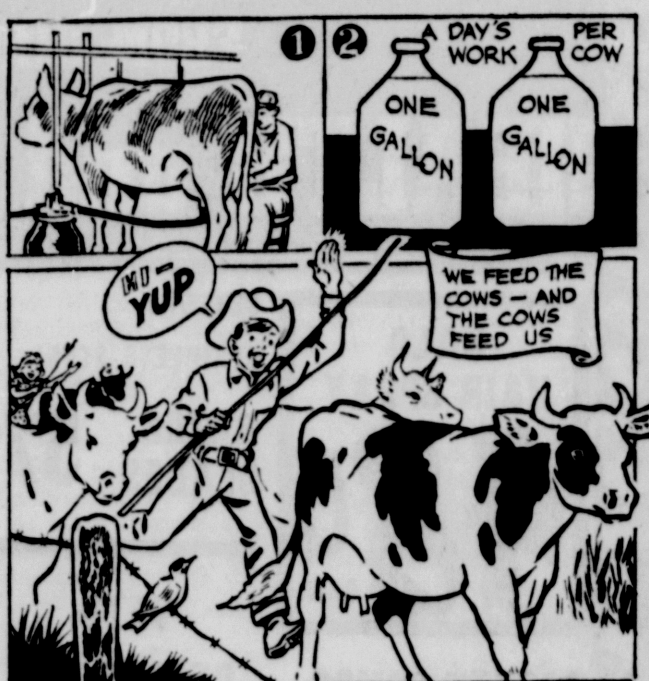

Q. How can I improvise a "stick-proof" glue - bottle cork?

A. Try using the stump of an old candle. This will not stick the next time you want to use the glue, and it will prevent your glue from spilling or hardening.

Q. Please tell me how I can clean tarnished silverware?

A. Place boiling water in a large aluminum pan, and add a tablespoon of baking soda to each quart of the water. Place your silver in this and let stand for about 15 minutes. Then rinse with hot water and dry. Do not, however, use this method for "antiquated" silverware!

Junior Editors Quiz on COWS

QUESTION: When does a cow begin to give milk? How much does she give?

ANSWER: Dairy cows begin to give milk after they have had their first calf, which is usually when they are between two and three years old (1). As a rule there is only one calf, although there may be twins. A cow starting to give milk is called a "fresh" cow and she can then be milked steadily for about ten months. For more milk, breeding must be arranged so she gives birth to another calf, for without this, a cow cannot produce milk. As a rule, dairy cows can go on producing good quantities of milk for five or six years but exceptionally good ones may continue for as long as 20 years.

Farmers think of milk production in pounds, because creameries pay for the milk by the pound. It is easier for the rest of us if we measure a cow's production in gallons, a gallon representing 8.6 pounds. Figured this way, we may say that two gallons a day might be an average cow's production (2). The individual cow will vary up and down from this, since some breeds, such as Holstein, give more milk than others. However, the Holstein's milk is not so rich in butterfat as others, such as cows of the Jersey breed.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can tell the breed of the next cow you see. The Holsteins are large, colored black or white or a spotted mixture. Jerseys are the smallest, fawn colored like a deer. Guernseys are middle sized, red and white. Ayrshires are a red and white northern cattle with long horns, and Brown Swiss are brownish gray.

Negotiations Continue For Clay Contract

Negotiations for a new contract continued today in Canton between representatives of 2,400 clay workers and perhaps a dozen vitrified sewer pipe manufacturers in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana.

Seeking an agreement to replace a two-year pact that expires at midnight Saturday, the United Brick and Clay Workers Union and sewer pipe management opened talks Thursday in Canton.

An agreement would cover 96 employees at the Peerless Clay Corp. in Port Homer, two other sewer pipe plants and allied industries in the Toronto river-front area, and the American Vitrified Products Co. plant in East End.

Hugh Ballentine, vice president, represented Peerless at today's talks. Cleveland officials are representing Amvits plants in East Liverpool, Uhrichsville, and Mecca and Brazil, Ind.

The union and management are seeking to replace a contract signed in April 1962 that provided wage increases and fringe benefits. It ended a 14-day strike of sewer pipe workers that closed 23 plants in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana. The Amvits plant in East End was not affected by the stoppage in 1962 because its contract did not expire until May 12 that year.
